You are invited to join us for a webinar and discussion with Professor Zafar Iqbal.

Through an interview with David Kidney (Executive Chair of WM Health Technologies Cluster and former CEO of UK Public Health Register) and open discussion, Zafar will reflect on his 30 years experience in Public Health and share his views of the future of Public Health. Topics covered will include Zafar's advice for public health trainees, routes to success and good 'hacks' for public health practice and major contemporary public health issues. We hope that you will join us for this light hearted look at Zafar's career and the events that have shaped it as he turns 60 this year.

Dr Zafar Iqbal

Dr Zafar Iqbal is currently an Associate Medical Director Public Health of a large Community NHS Trust. Previously he has held Director of Public Health positions for almost decade and held Board level positions in the UK Faculty of Public Health and UK Public Health Register. He also sits on a national expert clinical committee on NHS Health Checks. Currently he is chair of the UK Faculty Public Health Pakistan Group and a member of the Global Health Committee. He is a Visiting Professor at Staffordshire University and has been appointed as a Honorary Professor of two international institutions.
